

Johnny Mack Reach

Johnny Mack Reach, age 92, of West Blocton, Alabama, passed away peacefully, leaving behind a legacy of love, kindness, and unwavering faith.

Johnny was a devoted servant of the Lord, a man whose life reflected compassion, generosity, and a deep love for others. He found great joy in fellowship, both in his faith and in the simple pleasures of life. A loyal fan of Alabama football, he rarely missed an opportunity to cheer on his team, sharing that passion with family and friends.

Known for his gentle spirit and warm heart, Johnny truly loved love itself—freely giving it and gratefully receiving it from everyone around him. His presence brought comfort, laughter, and a sense of belonging to all who knew him.

Johnny dedicated many years of hard work to the Bibb County Road Commission before retiring. His commitment and strong work ethic were evident throughout his career and life.

He was preceded in death by his father, Emmett Reach; his mother, Lydia Reach; his brother, Kenneth Reach; his beloved wife, Maggleen “Maggie” Reach; and his child, Carol Warren.

He leaves behind a loving family who will cherish his memory: his children, Brenda Reid, and Jeff Ragsdale (Brenda); his grandchildren, Kevin Seagle, Keri Seagle Sawyers (Terry), Shawn Reid, Nikia Wilson (Fred), Danny Darling, Kayla Cook, Michelle Wilson (Wayne), and Tabatha Johnson (Mark); along with many great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren who were blessed by his love and presence.

Johnny Mack Reach will be remembered as a kind and gentle soul whose life touched many. His faith, love, and legacy will live on in the hearts of those who knew and loved him.
